2018 - 2019

EXPERTISE IN TRAINING LINKED TO QUESTIONS OF SECURITY

The European Forum for Urban Security accompanies you in the development and implementation of your security policies, by way of a specific training programme adapted to your needs. The Forum builds upon 30 years of work with local and regional European authorities.

Training by Efus addresses all the themes linked to urban security. Made concrete and illustrated by a number of examples, training permits the acquiring of new know-how easily mobilised in a professional environment. It also offers personalised advice via the expertise and the practices of Efus and its network, with a vision of reinforcing directly local security and prevention policies.

A NETWORK OF SPECIALIST TRAINERS

For 30 years, Efus has been comprised of a network of experts with a range of professional profiles and specialisations in a variety of sectors (criminology, sociology, law, police studies, urban planning, security and technology). Researchers, prevention professionals, or professionals from local and regional authorities, will engage with you through sharing and exchanging their experiences.

Some of the experts to be present at the Efus training:

Sebastian Deneff, researcher at Fraunhofer IAO

Géraldine Guille, in charge of coordinating the National Liaison Officer Network (NLO) within the European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights (FRA)

Sohail Husain, specialist consultant in local security and violence reduction

Virginie Malochet, sociologist and researcher at the Ile-de-France Institute of Planning and Development

Gian Guido Nobili, director of the department of urban security and the prevention of criminality in the region of Emilia Romagna (Italy)

Götz Nordbruch, co-founder of the NGO ufuq.de

Efus trains:

- Local elected representatives and municipal officials in charge of prevention
- State civil servants (National Police or Gendarmerie, Justice, Prefect of Equal Exchange ...)
- Professionals in security and urban life (educations, youth, social and urban development, housing, transportation)
- magistrates and police
- private security and surveillance professions
- members of civil society
- coordinators of local crime prevention councils

TRAINING FOR A DIVERSITY OF ACTORS

Questions of security are becoming increasingly important in local public policies. Whereas they previously fell under the almost exclusive competence of prevention and safety services, they are today more transversal and involve many actors. A wide range of professionals must therefore adapt their practices and acquire new knowledge and skills.

About the European Forum for Urban Security (Efus)

Created in 1987 in Barcelona, under the auspices of the Council of Europe, the European Forum for Urban Security (Efus) is the only European network of local and regional authorities dedicated to urban security. It brings together nearly 250 cities and regions from 16 countries with the objective of:

- > Promoting a balanced vision of urban safety, combining prevention, punishment and social cohesion;
- > Supporting local communities in the design, deployment and evaluation of their local security policy;
- > To recognize the role of local authorities in the development and implementation of national and European policies.

With a network of experts from universities, institutions and NGOs, Efus works on all topics related to urban safety and the prevention of delinquency. Its expertise and influence are recognized both at European and international level.
